Campus Gotland

Gotland is not only Sweden's largest island, but the largest in the Baltic Sea. With its pristine beaches and warm summer months, Gotland is one of Sweden's favourite holiday destinations. Though the island's population increases drastically during the summer, year-round there are approximately 60,000 inhabitants.

Uppsala University's Campus Gotland is located in Visby, the island's main town. Visby is a medieval town that has been marked as a historical site by the UNESCO World Heritage programme. A popular landmark is the fortress wall dating back to the 13th century, which surrounds the old city.

During your stay in Visby you can travel by foot, bicycle taxi, rental car and city transportation (bus).

By Foot

Visby is best enjoyed by foot, especially the Old Town, located within the city wall. Be aware that some of the streets (alleys) are quite narrow, cobblestone-paved, and somewhat hilly and thus can be difficult for people with handicaps.

The beautiful city of Visby

Visby is one of the most remarkable towns in Sweden and Scandinavia, and it is situated on the west coast of Gotland Island. It is known for the medieval city ringwall, the Cathedral (Sankta Maria Kyrka), and many medieval church ruins.

A former Viking site on the island of Gotland, Visby was the main centre of the Hanseatic League (German trading federation) in the Baltic from the 12th to the 14th century. Its 13th-century ringwall and more than 200 warehouses and wealthy merchants' dwellings from the same period make it the best-preserved fortified commercial medieval city in northern Europe.

If you happen to have a spare moment during your stay we recommend you to explore the city of Visby.

Stroll through the alleys and look at all the beautiful environments that exist around the entire city. Visit DBWs botanical garden or take a seat in one of the cozy restaurants with outdoor terraces.

There are 17 medieval church ruins in Visby. The most famous are the ruins of St, Clemens, St Hans, St Karin and St Nicolaus

If you feel like taking a piece of Gotland with you, go shopping at Adelsgatan or Öster Centrum. Plenty of interesting shops selling small trinkets and local handicraft and Gotlandic design.

The Gotlandic design has often been praised, both in Sweden and internationally. Gotland has always been a place where many creative businesses seek. Therefore there is a wide range of designers, with exciting materials and endless creativity.
